The Underwriters have advised the Company that they propose initially to offer the New Debentures to the public at the public offering price set forth on the cover page of this Prospectus Supplement, and to certain dealers at such price less a concession not in excess of .4% of the principal amount of the Series F Debentures and .5% of the principal amount of the Series G Debentures. The Underwriters may allow, and such dealers may reallow, a discount not in excess of .25% of the principal amount of the Series F Debentures and .25% of the principal amount of the Series G Debentures to certain other dealers. After the initial public offering, the public offering price, concession and discount may be changed.

In connection with this offering and in compliance with applicable law, the Underwriters may over allot (i.e., sell more New Debentures than the total amount shown on the list of Underwriters which appears above) and may effect transactions which stabilize, maintain or otherwise affect the market price of the New Debentures at levels above those which might otherwise prevail in the open market. Such transactions may include placing bids for the New Debentures or effecting purchases of the New Debentures for the purpose of pegging, fixing or maintaining the price of the New Debentures or for the purpose of reducing a syndicate short position created in connection with the offering. In addition, the contractual arrangements among the Underwriters include a provision whereby, if the Underwriters purchase New Debentures in the open market for the account of the underwriting syndicate and the securities purchased can be traced to a particular Underwriter or member of the selling group, the underwriting syndicate may require the Underwriter or selling group member in question to purchase the New Debentures in question at the cost price to the syndicate or may recover from (or decline to pay to) the Underwriter or selling group member in question the selling concession applicable to the securities in question. The Underwriters are not required to engage in any of these activities and any such activities, if commenced, may be discontinued at any time.

The New Debentures are a new issue of securities with no established trading market. The Underwriters have advised the Company that they intend to make a market in the New Debentures but are not obligated to do so and may discontinue such market making at any time without notice. No assurance can be given as to the liquidity of the trading market for the New Debentures.

The Company has agreed to indemnify the several Underwriters against certain liabilities, including liabilities under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended.

The Company's construction budget was approximately $700,000,000 for 1997, approximately $615,443,000 of which was incurred through November 30, 1997, principally for central office equipment, outside plant and land and buildings. The balance of the funds for the completion of the 1997 construction program were obtained primarily from internal sources and short-term loans. The Company's construction budget is currently estimated at approximately $690,220,000 for 1998.

THE NEW DEBENTURES

The New Debentures are to be issued as one or more series of the Company's debentures (the "Debentures") under an Indenture, dated as of January 1, 1994, as amended and supplemented by the First Supplemental Indenture dated as of May 1, 1996 (as amended and supplemented, the "Indenture"), between the Company and The First National Bank of Chicago, as trustee (the "Trustee"). By resolution of the Board of Directors of the Company or a certificate of authorized officers of the Company pursuant to such a resolution, the Company will designate the title of each series, aggregate principal amount, date or dates of maturity, dates for payment and rate of interest, redemption dates, prices, obligations and restrictions, if any, and any other terms with respect to each such series. The following summary does not purport to be complete and is subject in all respects to the provisions of, and is qualified in its entirety by express reference to, the cited Articles and Sections of the Indenture and the form of New Debenture, which are filed as exhibits to the Registration Statement of which this Prospectus is a part.

FORM AND EXCHANGE

Unless issued in the form of a Global Debenture as described under "Book-Entry, Delivery and Form" below, the New Debentures are to be issued in registered form only in denominations of $1,000 and integral multiples thereof and will be exchangeable for New Debentures of the same series of other denominations of a like aggregate principal amount without charge except for reimbursement of taxes, if any. (ARTICLE TWO)

MATURITY, INTEREST AND PAYMENT

Information concerning the maturity, interest rate and payment dates of each series of the New Debentures will be contained in a Prospectus Supplement relating to that series of New Debentures.

REDEMPTION PROVISIONS, SINKING FUND AND DEFEASANCE

Each series of the New Debentures may be redeemed upon not less than 30 days notice at the redemption prices and subject to the conditions that will be set forth in Prospectus Supplement relating to that series of New Debentures. (ARTICLE THREE) If a sinking fund is established with respect to any series of the New Debentures, a description of the terms of such sinking fund will be set forth in a Prospectus Supplement relating to that series of New Debentures. The Indenture provides that each series of the New Debentures is subject to defeasance. (SECTION 11.02)

BOOK-ENTRY, DELIVERY AND FORM

If a Prospectus Supplement specifies that any series of New Debentures will be issued in the form of one or more registered global certificates (for each such series, collectively, the "Global Debenture"), unless otherwise specified in such Prospectus Supplement, the Global Debenture will be deposited with, or on behalf of, The Depository Trust Company (the "Depository") and registered in the name of the Depository's nominee. Except as set forth below, the Global Debenture may be transferred, in whole but not in part, only to another nominee of the Depository or to a successor of the Depository or its nominee.

The Depository has advised as follows: It is a limited-purpose trust company which was created to hold securities for its participants and facilitate the clearance and settlement of securities transactions between participants in such securities through electronic book-entry changes in accounts of its participants. Participants include securities brokers and dealers (including the underwriters or dealers named in the Prospectus Supplement relating to the New Debentures), banks and trust companies, clearing corporations and certain other organizations. Access to the Depository's system is also available to others such as banks, brokers, dealers and trust companies that clear through or maintain a custodial relationship with a participant, either directly or indirectly ("indirect participants"). Persons who are not participants may beneficially own securities held by the Depository only through participants or indirect participants.

The Depository has advised that pursuant to procedures established by it (i) upon issuance of the New Debentures by the Company, the Depository will credit the accounts of the participants designated by the underwriters or dealers with the principal amounts of the New Debentures purchased by the underwriters or dealers and (ii) ownership of beneficial interests in the Global Debenture will be shown on, and the transfer of that ownership will be effected only through, records maintained by the Depository (with respect to participants' interests) or by the participants and indirect participants (with respect to the owners of beneficial interests in the Global Debenture). The laws of some states require that certain persons take physical delivery in definitive form of securities which they own. Consequently, the ability to transfer beneficial interests in the Global Debenture is limited to such extent.

So long as the Depository's nominee is the registered owner of the Global Debenture, such nominee for all purposes will be considered the sole owner or holder of the New Debentures. Except as provided below, owners of beneficial interests in the Global Debenture will not be entitled to have any of the New Debentures registered in their names and will not receive or be entitled to receive physical delivery of the New Debentures in definitive form.

Neither the Company, the Trustee, any paying agent of the Company nor the Depository will have any responsibility or liability for any aspect of the records relating to or payments made on account of beneficial ownership interests in the Global Debenture, or for maintaining, supervising or reviewing any records relating to such beneficial ownership interests.

Principal and interest payments on the New Debentures registered in the name of the Depository's nominee will be made to the Depository's nominee as the registered owner of the Global Debenture. The Company and the Trustee will treat the persons in whose names the New Debentures are registered as the owners of such New Debentures for the purpose of receiving payment of principal and interest on the New Debentures and for all other purposes whatsoever. Therefore, neither the Company, the Trustee nor any paying agent of the Company will have any direct responsibility or liability for the payment of principal and interest on the New Debentures to owners of beneficial interests in the Global Debenture. The Depository has advised the Company and the Trustee that its present practice is, upon receipt of any payment of principal and interest, to immediately credit the accounts of the participants with such payment in amounts proportionate to their respective holdings in principal amount of beneficial interests in the Global Debenture as shown in the records of the Depository. Payments by participants and indirect participants to owners of beneficial interests in the Global Debenture will be governed by standing instructions and customary practices, as is now the case with securities held for the accounts of customers in bearer form or registered in "street name," and will be the responsibility of the participants or indirect participants.

If the Depository is at any time unwilling or unable to continue as depository with respect to an outstanding series of New Debentures or if at any time the Depository shall no longer be registered or in good standing under the Exchange Act or other applicable statute and a successor depository is not appointed by the Company within 90 days, the Company will issue New Debentures in definitive form in exchange for the Global Debenture. In addition, the Company may at any time determine not to have an outstanding series of New Debentures represented by a Global Debenture. In either instance, an owner of a beneficial interest in the Global Debenture will be entitled to have New Debentures equal in principal amount to such beneficial interest registered in its name and will be entitled to physical delivery of such New Debentures in definitive form. New Debentures so issued in definitive form will be issued in denominations of U.S. $1,000 and integral multiples thereof and will be issued in registered form only, without coupons.

RESTRICTIONS

The New Debentures will not be secured. The Indenture provides, however, that if the Company shall at any time mortgage or pledge any of its property, the Company will secure the New Debentures, equally and ratably with the other indebtedness or obligations secured by such mortgage or pledge, so long as such other indebtedness or obligations shall be so secured. There are certain exceptions to the foregoing, among them that the Debentures need not be secured:

(i) in the case of (a) purchase money mortgages, (b) conditional sales agreements or (c) mortgages existing at the time of purchase, on property acquired after the date of the Indenture;

(ii) with respect to certain deposits or pledges to secure the performance of bids, tenders, contracts or leases or in connection with worker's compensation and similar matters;

(iii) with respect to mechanics' and similar liens in the ordinary course of business;

(iv) with respect to the Company's first mortgage bonds outstanding on the date of the Indenture, issued and secured by the Company and its predecessors in interest under various security instruments, all of which have been assumed by the Company (collectively, the "First Mortgage Bonds"), and any replacement or renewal (without increase in principal amount or extension of final maturity date) of such outstanding First Mortgage Bonds;

(v) with respect to First Mortgage Bonds which may be issued by the Company in connection with the consolidation or merger of the Company with or into certain affiliates of the Company in exchange for or otherwise in substitution for long-term senior indebtedness of any such affiliate ("Affiliate Debt") which by its terms (x) is secured by a mortgage on all or a portion of the property of such affiliate, (y) prohibits long-term senior secured indebtedness from being incurred by such affiliate, or a successor thereto, unless the Affiliate Debt shall be secured equally and ratably with such long-term senior secured indebtedness or (z) prohibits long-term senior secured indebtedness from being incurred by such affiliate; or

(vi) with respect to indebtedness required to be assumed by the Company in connection with the merger or consolidation of certain affiliates of the Company with or into the Company. (SECTION 4.05)

The Indenture does not limit the amount of debt securities which may be issued or the amount of debt which may be incurred by the Company. (SECTION 2.01) However, while the restriction in the Indenture described above would not afford holders of the New Debentures protection in the event of a highly leveraged transaction in which unsecured indebtedness was incurred, the issuance of most debt securities by the Company, including the New Debentures, does require state regulatory approval (which may or may not be granted). In addition, in the event of a highly leveraged transaction in which secured indebtedness was incurred, the above restriction would require the New Debentures to be secured equally and ratably with such secured indebtedness, subject to the exceptions described above. It is unlikely that a leveraged buyout initiated or supported by the Company, the management of the Company or an affiliate of either party would occur, because all of the common stock of the Company is owned by GTE, which has no current intention of selling its ownership in the Company.

MODIFICATIONS OF INDENTURE

The Indenture contains provisions permitting the Company and the Trustee, with the consent of the holders of not less than a majority in aggregate principal amount of the Debentures of any series at the time outstanding and affected by such modification, to modify the Indenture or any supplemental indenture affecting that series of the Debentures or the rights of the holders of that series of Debentures. However, no such modification shall (i) extend the fixed maturity of any Debenture, or reduce the principal amount thereof, or reduce the rate or extend the time of payment of interest thereon, or reduce any premium payable upon the redemption thereof, without the consent of the holder of each Debenture so affected, or (ii) reduce the aforesaid percentage of Debentures, the holders of which are required to consent to any such supplemental indenture, without the consent of each holder of Debentures then outstanding and affected thereby. (SECTION 9.02)

The Company and the Trustee may execute, without the consent of any holder of Debentures, any supplemental indenture for certain other usual purposes including the creation of any new series of Debentures. (SECTIONS 2.01, 9.01 and 10.01)

EVENTS OF DEFAULT

The Indenture provides that the following described events constitute "Events of Default" with respect to each series of the Debentures thereunder: (a) failure for 30 business days to pay interest on the Debentures of that series when due; (b) failure to pay principal or premium, if any, on the Debentures of that series when due, whether at maturity, upon redemption, by declaration or otherwise, or to make any sinking fund payment with respect to that series; (c) failure to observe or perform any other covenant (other than those specifically relating to another series) in the Indenture for 90 days after notice with respect thereto; or (d) certain events in bankruptcy, insolvency or reorganization. (SECTION 6.01)

The holders of a majority in aggregate outstanding principal amount of any series of the Debentures have the right to direct the time, method and place of conducting any proceeding for any remedy available to the Trustee for that series. (SECTION 6.06) The Trustee or the holders of not less than 25% in aggregate outstanding principal amount of any particular series of the Debentures may declare the principal due and payable immediately upon an Event of Default with respect to such series, but the holders of a majority in aggregate outstanding principal amount of such series may rescind and annul such declaration and waive the default if the default has been cured and a sum sufficient to pay all matured installments of interest and principal and any premium has been deposited with the Trustee. (SECTION 6.01)

The holders of a majority in aggregate outstanding principal amount of any series of the Debentures may, on behalf of the holders of all the Debentures of such series, waive any past default except a default in the payment of principal, premium, if any, or interest. (SECTION 6.06) The Company is required to file annually with the Trustee a certificate as to whether or not the Company is in compliance with all the conditions and covenants under the Indenture. (SECTION 5.03)

CONCERNING THE TRUSTEE

The Trustee, prior to an Event of Default, undertakes to perform only such duties as are specifically set forth in the Indenture and, after the occurrence of an Event of Default, shall exercise the same degree of care as a prudent individual would exercise in the conduct of his own affairs. (SECTION 7.01) Subject to such provision, the Trustee is under no obligation to exercise any of the powers vested in it by the Indenture at the request of any holders of Debentures, unless offered reasonable security or indemnity by such security holders against the costs, expenses and liabilities which might be incurred thereby. (SECTION 7.02) The Trustee is not required to expend or risk its own funds or incur personal financial liability in the performance of its duties if the Trustee reasonably believes that repayment or adequate indemnity is not reasonably assured to it. (SECTION 7.01)

The Company and certain of its affiliates maintain banking relationships with the Trustee. The Trustee serves as trustee under an indenture pursuant to which certain of the First Mortgage Bonds are outstanding.

CERTAIN LEGAL MATTERS

The validity of the New Debentures will be passed upon for the Company by William G. Mundy, Esq., Vice President-General Counsel of the Company. Certain legal matters in connection with the New Debentures will be passed upon for the underwriters, agents, or institutional purchasers by Milbank, Tweed, Hadley & McCloy of New York, New York.

PLAN OF DISTRIBUTION

The Company may sell any series of the New Debentures in one or more of the following ways: (i) to underwriters for resale to the public or to institutional purchasers; (ii) directly to institutional purchasers; or (iii) through Company agents to the public or to institutional purchasers. The Prospectus Supplement with respect to each series of New Debentures will set forth the terms of the offering of such New Debentures, including the name or names of any underwriters or agents, the purchase price of such New Debentures and the proceeds to the Company from such sale, any underwriting discounts or agency fees and other items constituting underwriters' or agents' compensation, any initial public offering price, any discounts or concessions allowed or reallocated or paid to dealers and any securities exchanges on which such New Debentures may be listed.

If underwriters are used in the sale, such New Debentures will be acquired by the underwriters for their own account and may be resold from time to time in one or more transactions, including negotiated transactions, at a fixed public offering price or at varying prices determined at the time of sale.

Unless otherwise set forth in a Prospectus Supplement, the obligations of the underwriters to purchase any series of New Debentures will be subject to certain conditions precedent and the underwriters will be obligated to purchase all such New Debentures if any are purchased. In the event of a default of one or more of the underwriters involving not more than 10% of the aggregate principal amount of the New Debentures offered for sale, the non-defaulting underwriters would be required to purchase the New Debentures agreed to be purchased by such defaulting underwriter or underwriters. In the event of a default in excess of 10% of the aggregate principal amount of the New Debentures, the Company may, at its option, sell less than all the New Debentures offered.

Underwriters and agents may be entitled under agreements entered into with the Company to indemnification by the Company against certain civil liabilities, including liabilities under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, or to contribution with respect to payments which the underwriters or agents may be required to make in respect thereof. Underwriters and agents may be customers of, engage in transactions with, or perform services for, the Company in the ordinary course of business.
